

Let's face it...loss prevention programs need to match or exceed the sophistication of the shoplifter. In some situations, a single EAS tag can do the job. However, if a more aggressive shoplifter is present or the merchandise is expensive and desirable, a higher level of protection is necessary.

Many retailers use a combination ink/ferrite product manufactured by Virginland to have the highest impact on their shoplifting. These lightweight, but strong and secure tags stand up to the cleverest thieves.
